NOTIFICATION OF 2006 BASE MAP REVIEW PERIOD

Today Tuesday, November 21st, 2006 the Utilities Protection Center is releasing an updated Georgia Base Map for review. The updated Base Map will potentially affect the alignment or replacement of geographic street data, which in turn, may affect proper notification of utility members in a given area.

Therefore, before implementing the new base map, each utility member will need to utilize our website and the online tools available to review the recommended changes to their current service areas.

Note: In order to utilize the online tools you must have a valid web account with service area access.

Further Note: Any changes made at this time to your service area will be saved and moved into the new EDEN System on January 1st, 2007.

This review period will begin today, Tuesday, November 20th, 2006. Each member will be given a four week period, until Friday December 15th, 2006, to review all recommended service area changes. During this review period each member will be responsible for accepting or rejecting the suggested service area changes. If no response is received from the member prior to the end of the four week review period, the center will assume, that as a member, you have accepted ALL suggested changes.

You will find instructions on how to utilize the online tools posted on both our website, www.gaupc.com and also on the IRTH Login page, <http://irth.gaupc.com/irthinternet>. These instructions will provide you with everything that you will need in order to review and approve or reject your recommended service area changes. However, if you do have questions please contact your regional liaison manager (you will find a complete geographical listing of liaison managers in your region by going to www.gaupc.com).
